New York Post, of Tuesday evening

"A writer in a morning paper, who signs himself a father, and who mourns the loss of a son belonging to the Ninth regiment New York faste militia, asserts that the colonel and every field-officer, with some of the captains, were in this city on Friday, the day of the battle at Predericksburg. The regiment was consequently commanded by a captain, Hendrickson. Was this soi! And how many other regiments were left in the same disgraceful state of abandonment!"

We trust and believe that the regiment re-interest in affairs there, in the reported immi-nency of a battle near Nashville, and the now general belief that Banks' expedition is in-ended for some point on the Guif.

Our hold upon New Orleans seems to be seure, and with the Mississippi thoroughly opened, it is in our power to give such a turn to affairs in the Southwest, as will put a final end to all schemes which to the attempt to es-talish a Southern Confederacy. A good deal, perhaps not too much, has been said about the mportance of abolishing slavery in the borde States, but it is immeasurably more important to abolish it in Texas. Whatever may happen the further extension of the institution toward the South and West will then be rendered impossible, and without the hope of such exten emaining motive.

Not only ought Texas to be operated upon from the Gulf side, but by the march of ade-quate forces through Arkansas, and there are ndications that we may look to the Adminis ration for such movements.

The aspect of affairs, notwithstanding the know perfectly well the plottings in which his Secretary was engaged. Indeed, he permitted him to go to Raleigh, as an open and avowed delegate from Mississippi to North Carolins, to persuade the latter State to secode. Mr. Bu-chanan gave Mr. Thompson a leave of absence from his duties as Secretary of the Interior, for after his return, upon the old footing. Well might Mr. Thompson exclaim:

"Buckasan is the truest friend to the South
I have ever known from the North." Mr. Thompson, as will be seen, is not of hose who believe that slavery had nothing to with secession. In fact, he assigns no other for secession, except one connected with "The successful, unrestricted instalation of Lincoln is the beginning of the end o slavery." Mr. Thompson urges that, and he urges nothing else, as the stimulus and justifi. the aggregate, by the robel strategy disclosed cation of the revolution he was conspiring to bring about.

MY DEAR PATRISON: The time has come when every man who loves his State and country is required to take his share of responsibility and perform his share of duty.

My allegiance is due to the State of Mississippi, and her destiny shall be my destiny. I believe she ought to resist, and to the bitter endieve she ought to resist, and to the bitter endieve she ought to resist, and to the bitter endieve she or our future safety, and, in the event of a call of a Convention, I want, if I can, to be a member of that Convention.

I want to go as a member from our county, and I want you, as my friend, to see our friend fovey (or —) and our friend Lamar; and, our editors are friendly to me, I want you to them, and to make such a call on me, hrough the columns of our papers, as to make apparent that it is my duty to come home and make common cause with my State.

New York, December 5, 1862.

To Hon. A. Lincolla, President of the U. States:

Birs: The undersigned citizens of Florida would respectfully recommend that Hon. Eli Thayer be appointed Military Governor of Florida, with authority to raise twenty thousand or more smigrants who will go to reside permanently in that State and become citizens thereof of.

We are sure that such action on the part of the Administration will meet the approbation of the logal citizens of Florida, and will be the readlest and quickest means of effectually weed-ing out treason there. The State is now ripe for such a movement. Action cannot be had Signed by the Hon. Philip Fraser, and quite a number of other Florida refugees now in New York; men who have been among the active ed by a number of the most distinguished men of the country, in both civil and military position, were also placed in the hands of the President. Of the thousands of petitions coming before the Executive, probably, in the whole history of the Government there never has been one so weightily signed as was this of yesterday. After some discussion of the subject, by several gentlemen of the committee, in answer to queries and suggestions by the President, and the presenting of certain reasons for early actions they were pleased to be told that the President

This movement on the part of the new gen-it was in ancient times, depends, we think, upon the action of our own Government. We hope that it will not lose a moment in adopting the suggestion which we made several months since—that of consolidating the mili-tary departments of the Southwest Into one, under the command of Gen. Grant. Otherwise, the Union armies in that section are liable to by this movement.

The concentration of all military authority in the Southwest in the hands of the only man capable of properly exerting it, will effectually block the game of the rebels in that quarter

We appeal to the loyal Representives in Cor gress from the West for their co-operation in bringing about this result before it is too late to avert the impending disaster.

Four o'clock, a.m., 14th December.
The President: I have just returned from the field. Our troops are all over the river and hold the first ridge outside the town and three miles below. We hope to carry the crest today. Our loss is heavy—say five thousand.

A. E. Bernosing,
Major General Commanding.

W. T. Dunis, Eq., agent for the State of Indiana, gives us the following interesting account of what he saw and heard at Frederickaburg. Mr. Dennis went to the front on Sunday and returned yesterday a. m.:

The exercest fighting on Saturday was immediately back of Fredericksburg and upon the extreme left. The fighting on the extreme left, in Franklin's corps, was of rather a dennitory and irregular character, only a small portion of our troops being engaged at musket range. A considerable portion of the casualties was the result of stray shot and shell from the enemy's artillery.

remit of stray shot and shell from the enemy's artillery.

The extreme left, extending to the swamp, drove the enemy back a mile and a half, until they were covered by their own breastworks. The entire loss in the left wing may be estimated to be about 3,000 killed, wounded and missing. The fighting in the immediate vicinity of Fredericksburg was principally by Kimball's beigade, of French's division. This brigade, from its well-known gallantry on a former occasion, had been selected from Sumner's corps to lead the charge on the enemy's centre, this being considered an important point to be gained.

Signed by the Hon. Philip Fraser, and quite a number of other Florida refugees now in New York; men who have been among the active business citizens of Florida for twenty, twenty-five and thirty years, and some of them natives of the State, and now driven out because of their loyalty to the old flag.

Appended to the Florida letter, and signed by Jadge Harris and thirty other Senators, and Mr. Speaker Grow, and 102 others of the House of Representatives, was this full concurrence in its request:

To Hon. Arraham Lincoln, President of the United States:

To Hon. Arraham Lincoln, President of the United States:

Fully concurring in the views of Judge Fraser, and other prominent and koyal citizens of Florida, we respectfully ask that his request be granted.

A paper was also presented from Major Gen. Hunter, commanding the Department of the South, entirely approving of the enterprise. Other papers expressing full bellef in the feasibility and wisdom of the movement, and signed by a number of the most distinguished men only facts that marked the operations on Sunday.

Monday was still more remarkable for want of activity. Orders were passed through the entire line of our troops, on Monday afternoon, for preparations for a charge upon the enemy's works during the night. In many of the regiments there were roll calls at every hour; in fact, every possible precaution was taken for the purpose of having our entire force ready at a moment's warning. The wounded in the hospitals at Prederickaburg were all safely transported to this side of the river, loaded in the ears; and the wounded in the division hospitals further down the river were also safely brought over.

indications that we may look to the Administration for such movements.

The aspect of affairs, notwithstanding the serious disaster at Frederickaburg, was never really more hopeful than it is now. The Administration is pressing down upon the heart of the rebellion with vigor and upon a firm line of policy.

MORE SECRETS OF THE PRISON-NAGAIN.

We referred, yesterday, to the fact that a large portion of the private papers and correspondence of Mr. Buchanan's Secretary of the laterfor, fell into the hands of our army, in the capture of Oxford, Mississippi. Among the papers is said to be Mr. Thompson's copy-book of letters written. The one below, we publish from the National Intelligence of yesterday. It is, as Mr. Thompson says of Mr. Buchanan, "the subject into immediate and full contents written. The one below, we publish from the National Intelligence of Yesterday. It is, as Mr. Thompson says of Mr. Buchanan, "the observations of the eadwance of Gen. Grant's army into the heart of the State, have fallen back towards with the coverage of Mr. Buchanan's Cabines, and know perfectly well the piottings in which his secretary was engaged. Indeed, he permitted my's guns.

Thus in a few short hours the entire forces to hope from victory.

Thus in a few short hours the entire forces eral sent out by the Jeff. Davis Government to make headway against Gen. Grant, does eredit to his military talents.

It, in effect, revives the Fabian policy against this modern Hannibai of the West. Whether this policy shall be us successful in modern as it was in ancient times, depends, we think, in the modern times, depends, we think, and without the slightlest knowledge on the part of the enemy of the transaction, until the morning sun showed where they had been.

Mr. Dennis states positively that our casualties cannot exceed, in killed, wounded and missing over 5,000. The wounds of most of these, it was in ancient times, depends, we think,

Ten millions would pay for every slave, the property of loyal citizens, in Missouri. To emancipate these alaves by compensating their loyal owners, and thus abolish slavery forever in these border States, was the noble work the Government had now to perform. A few soldiers, who had straggiod off, made their appearance upon the river bank after the pontoon bridges had been removed, but they were brought over in small boats.

A few cavairy men, who were gaarding a house inhabited by a private family, were not during the night aware of our crossing, but in the morning, becoming aware of this fact, they safely awan the river.

The pickets of the contending armies being separated only by a few yards, rendered it necessary that everything on our part should be combucted with the unnost camiton. Those on the outposts were unaware of the movement until just before daylight, when an officer went to each individual man, and, in a low tone, ordered him to fall back.
